The Rule

To change a sentence from the past tense into the present perfect tense, you need to use:

'has' or 'have' + a past tense verb = present perfect tense

The alien has won the hide-and-seek contest.

The aliens sneaked into the restaurant.

The aliens have sneaked into the restaurant.

What Does This Sentence Tell You?

The sentence below is written in the past tense.

Timmy was in his spaceship for twenty years.

But what if it is still happening?
What if Timmy is still in his spaceship?
Change this sentence into the present perfect tense.

Changing Tense

If something that initially happened in the past is still continuing in the present, we need to use the present perfect tense.

Timmy was in his spaceship for twenty years.

To change a sentence from the past sentence into the present perfect tense, you need to:

Replace the verb with 'has' or 'have' and the correct past tense form.

Timmy was has been in his spaceship for twenty years.

Past to Present Perfect

The sentence below is written in the past tense.
Can you change it into the present perfect tense?

The aliens landed on the planet Zigtog.

Remember, to create the present perfect tense you need to use either 'has' or 'have' plus another past tense verb.

Past to Present Perfect

If we change just 'landed' to 'have landed', the sentence changes into the present perfect tense.

The aliens landed on the planet Zigtog.

The aliens have landed on the planet Zigtog.

Using the present perfect tense here shows that the action has finished but the result of the action (their presence on the planet) is still happening now.
