One day, the circus came to the city. Chloe went straight after school to go to the show. She was very excited about seeing Crusty the clown.

It was December and the weather was very cold. Chloe had decided to wear a warm coat. She could see the circus in the distance and she rushed towards the entrance. She paid her money and took a seat as close to the circus circle as she could.

Yesterday we were learning about using contraction apostrophes

Draw a line to match the ant to the food item. One has been done for you.

I shouldn't call Pepper name
I haven't tidged my room

Excellent placing and drawing of apostrophes

Great matching apostrophes to words they are related to Use them in our other writing

Every day we are going to recap a part of the story

WALT: Write a letter from the penguin

We are going to write a letter from the Penguin to the Boy

To the boy who lives here,

Hello, my name is Pingu the Penguin and I would really like to be your friend. I have sailed all the way from the South Pole because I don't have any friends there. I feel very lonely and it makes me feel very sad. I have tried making friends with other boys and girls but they just ignore me because I can't speak human. As a penguin, I am very good at giving nice, warm hugs because of my super, fluffy fur. I also am very good at swimming, maybe we could go swimming one day and I can show you how fast I am. Thank you for reading my letter.

WALT: Write a letter from the penguin

Tuesday 19th Jan
English

Can you write a letter to the boy in the story.
Imagine you are the penguin and you are writing to ask if he will be your friend because you are lonely.

Try and use commas in a list and some apostrophe words. E.g. can't, don't

To the boy who lives here

Hello, my name is Pingu the Penguin. Please can you help me?

Now it is your turn to write a letter. Imagine you are the penguin and explain why you want to be the boy's friend.
