

Yesterday we were using contraction apostrophes

We're having a birthday party just for me today! This isn't my real birthday. It's April 12th and I'm 12 years old. I invited many friends. They're all coming, but not Alex. He's on a trip with his family and cannot come. I don't know what kind of cake Mum got me. She's keeping it a surprise and that's okay because I like surprises. Dad and Mum told me not peek at my birthday gift and I haven't even when I really wanted to.

You changed the words so that they had contraction apostrophes

We're having a birthday party just for me today! This isn't my real birthday. It's April 12th and I'll be eight years old. I invited many friends. They're all coming, but not Alex. He's on a trip with his family and cannot come. I don't know what kind of cake Mum got me. She's keeping it a surprise and that's okay because I like surprises. Dad and Mum told me not to peek at my birthday gift and I haven't even when I really wanted to.

Lovely, neat handwriting

Remember these contractions follow a pattern we are - we're they are -

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

Possession - Something that is owned by somebody or something

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zvwwxnb/articles/zx9ydxs>

This is the pen belonging to Mr Garcia

How could we write this using a possessive apostrophe?

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

What is the object?

Who does it belong to?

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

What is the object?

Who does it belong to?

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

What is the object?

Who does it belong to?

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

Thu 25th English – Possessive Apostrophes

Copy and complete these sentences, adding an apostrophe to show possession:

1. The hairdressers scissors.

2. The shopkeepers till.

3. Mr Bensons football team.

4. Johns bike.

5. This is the farmers land.

WALT: Use possessive apostrophes

The dog that belongs to Sarah can be written as Sarah's dog. Make these sentences shorter

6. The car that belongs to Bob.

Bob's car

7. The palace that is owned by the Queen.

8. The football that belongs to Lucy.

9. The nest of the crow.

10. The tail of the lion.
